

Press release

Basel, January 2018

JAEGGI: Jan Ballandt now Sales Director Europe

The sales engineer has already been responsible at JAEGGI for the regions Southern and Eastern Germany from 2008 onwards. On 1 January 2018, he took over the position as Sales Director Europe at the renowned manufacturer for hybrid dry coolers and condensers.

Jan Ballandt graduated from BA Riesa (vocational college) with a supply engineering degree and has, in addition to his technical background as project manager also for major building engineering projects, many years of experience in sales. His goal as Sales Director Europe is to consolidate JAEGGI's sales activities and to expand them across Europe.
